[illegible][illegible]

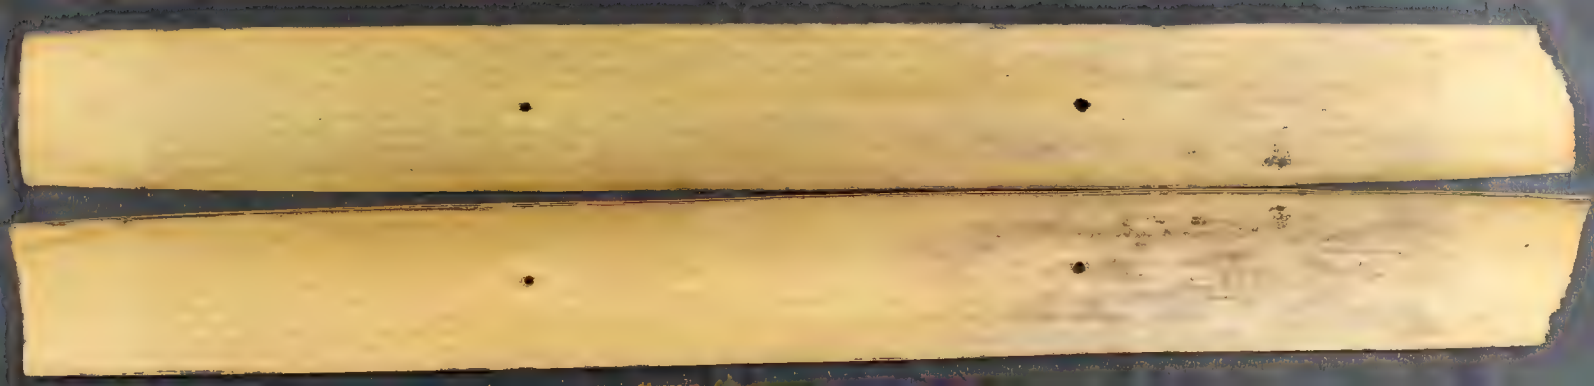

This image shows a single, elongated palm-leaf manuscript. The leaf is light brown with significant discoloration, staining, and two large, dark, irregular holes. Faint, handwritten text in an ancient script is visible along the top edge, but the rest of the leaf is mostly blank or too damaged to read.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or manuscript. The text is written on aged, yellowed paper with visible wear and tear, including a large hole near the center. The script is dense and fills most of the page.

[illegible][illegible]

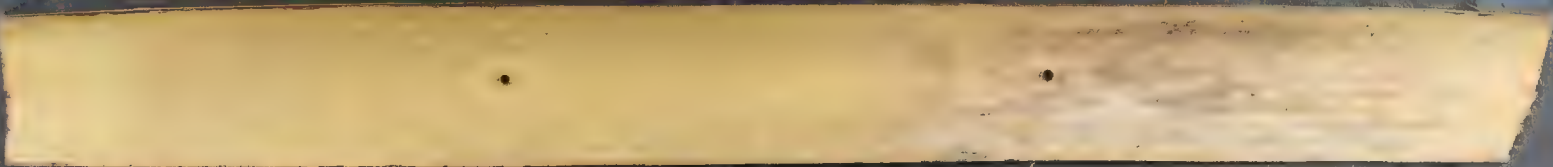

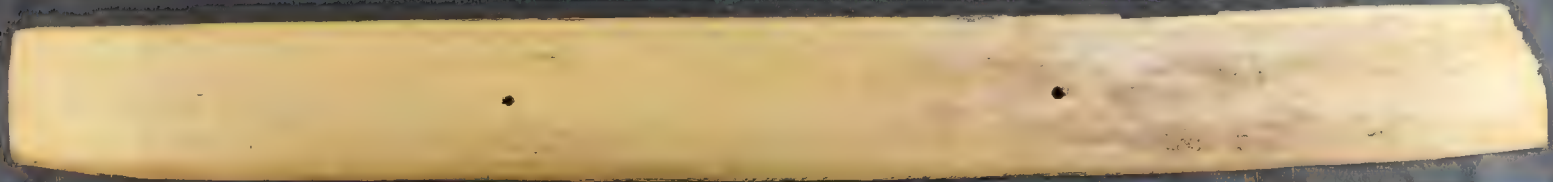

[The image shows a close-up of a palm-leaf manuscript strip with handwritten text in an ancient script, likely Burmese or Thai. The text is arranged in horizontal lines across the length of the leaf. There are two prominent circular holes visible, which were traditionally used for threading a cord to bind multiple leaves together into a book format.]

[illegible]

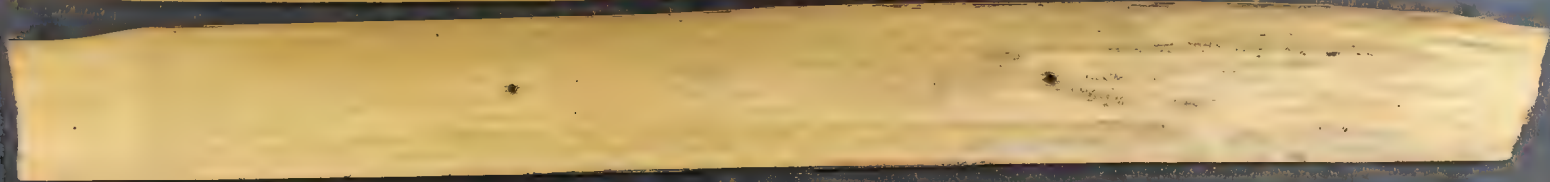

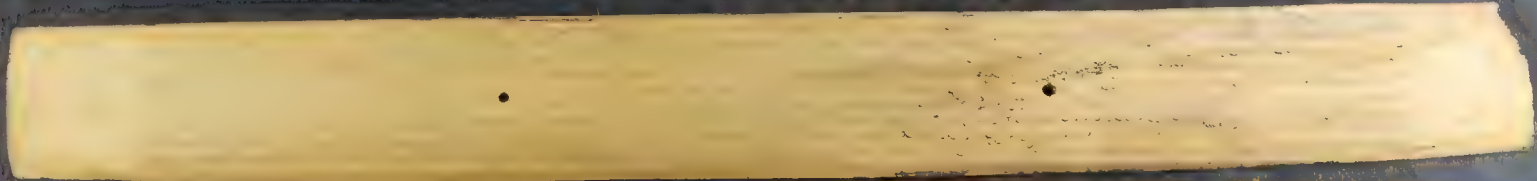

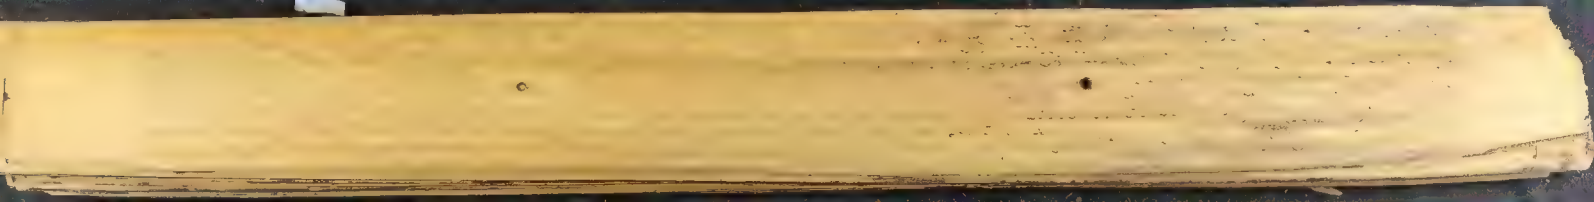

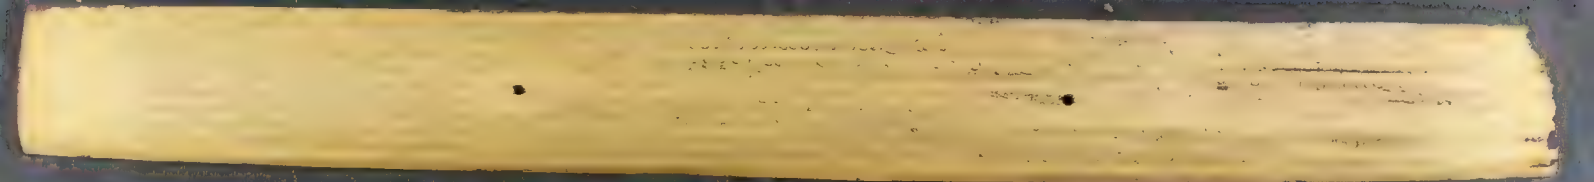

Handwritten text on a yellowed, torn strip of paper. The text is faint and mostly illegible due to fading and damage. A small, dark circular mark is visible on the left side of the strip.
